Notes:

FACTOR MARKET

The market where people buy and sell the services of the factors of production - land, capital, labour, and entrepreneurship.

Labour market:

The place where workers and employees interact with each other.

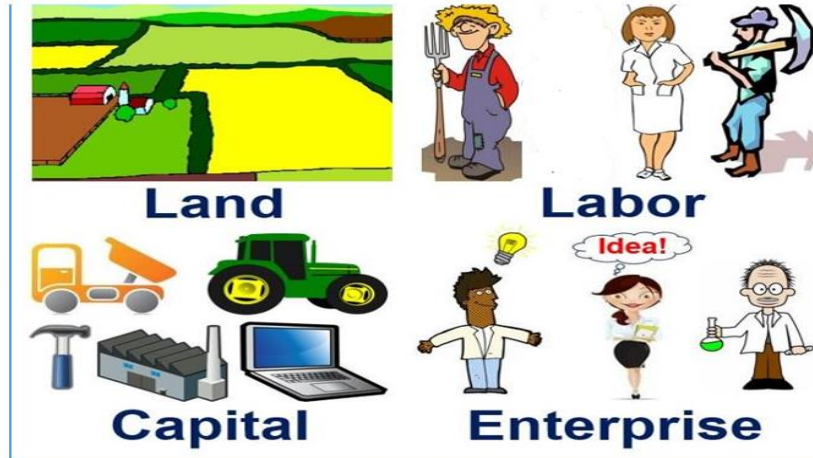

Where employers compete to hire the best, and the workers compete for the best satisfying job.

Financial market:

A marketplace where buyers and sellers participate in the trade of assets such as equities, bonds, currencies, etc. An example is the JSE

Factors of production:

FACTORS OF PRODUCTION

Labour:

When a business buys your labour on the factor market, it is not buying you. It is buying your services - your ability to work.

Natural resources/Land

Suppose you own a warehouse and you rent it to business as business premises. You are not selling the land to the business - you are just selling a service of the land, which is its ability to allow a business to produce goods there.

Capital

Capital is a man-made resource that is used to produce more goods and services. Capital makes the production process easier.

Entrepreneurship

People are not buying and selling entrepreneurs - they are buying and selling the entrepreneurs' ideas and the potential of those business ideas to make a profit.

Businesses and the government are the main buyers of the factor market. They use the services of the factors of production to produce goods and services which will be sold on the goods market.
