A. PROBLEM STATEMENT

Thoroughly read the problem statement below and complete the activities being guided by the questions in each activity.

Challenges of transiting from adolescence to adulthood in the context of changing life role and choosing jobs

Research has proven that most South African young people in South Africa (SA) often face transitional challenges related to changes in life roles while transitioning from adolescence to adulthood. Unfortunately, that change has a potential to negatively affect the ability of young people to make informed decisions about their career choices, especially those that require 4th industrial Revolution and 21st century skills. Various attempts have been made by both the public and private sectors to expose learners to the different career fields and that were intended to empower them the necessary knowledge and skills to carefully choose careers in line with their potential, values, and attitudes. Amidst the various attempts made to help them, most young people are still battling with the inability to make informed career decisions. There are many reasons that could be attributed to this inability.
