This question paper consists of 9 pages and an addendum of 14 pages.

INSTRUCTIONS AND INFORMATION

1. This question paper consists of SECTION A and SECTION B based on the prescribed content framework in the CAPS document:

SECTION A: SOURCE-BASED QUESTIONS

QUESTION 1: THE COLD WAR: THE ORIGINS OF THE COLD WAR

QUESTION 2: INDEPENDENT AFRICA: CASE STUDY – ANGOLA

QUESTION 3: CIVIL SOCIETY PROTESTS FROM THE 1950s TO THE 1970s: THE US CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT

SECTION B: ESSAY QUESTIONS

QUESTION 4: THE EXTENSION OF THE COLD WAR: CASE STUDY – VIETNAM

QUESTION 5: INDEPENDENT AFRICA: CASE STUDY – THE CONGO

QUESTION 6: CIVIL SOCIETY PROTESTS FROM THE 1950s TO THE 1970s: THE BLACK POWER MOVEMENT

2. SECTION A consists of THREE source-based questions. Source material that is required to answer these questions can be found in the ADDENDUM.
3. SECTION B consists of THREE essay questions.
4. Answer THREE questions as follows:
  - 4.1 At least ONE must be a source-based question and at least ONE must be an essay question.
  - 4.2 The THIRD question can be either a source-based question or an essay question.
5. You are advised to spend ONE hour per question.
6. When answering the questions, you should apply your knowledge, skills and insight.
7. You will be disadvantaged by merely rewriting the sources as answers.
8. Number the answers correctly according to the numbering system used in this question paper.
9. Write neatly and legibly.

SECTION A: SOURCE-BASED QUESTIONS

Answer at least ONE question, but not more than TWO questions, in this section. Source material to be used to answer these questions is contained in the ADDENDUM.

QUESTION 1: HOW DID GREECE BECOME A FOCAL POINT IN COLD WAR TENSIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (USA) AND THE SOVIET UNION AT THE END OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR IN 1945?

Study Sources 1A, 1B, 1C and 1D and answer the questions that follow.

1.1 Refer to Source 1A.

- 1.1.1 List THREE components of the Greek economy that were unable to function effectively during the occupation period. (3 x 1) (3)
- 1.1.2 What do you think led to a poor internal transportation system in Greece after the Second World War? (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.1.3 According to the source, why was the Bank of Greece compelled to issue more and more bank notes? (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.1.4 In the context of the Cold War, explain why the USA offered some form of economic assistance to Greece. (2 x 2) (4)

1.2 Study Source 1B.

- 1.2.1 According to the source, what was the second war that started in Greece after the Second World War had ended in 1945? (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.2.2 Explain the concept communists in the context of the Greek Civil War. (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.2.3 According to the source, what support did President Truman offer to the Greek national army during the civil war? Give TWO responses. (1 x 2) (2)

- 1.3 Read Source 1C.
- 1.3.1 Give THREE reasons stated in the source why President Truman had to convince Congress and American citizens that Greece deserved aid. (3 x 1) (3)
- 1.3.2 Explain the implication of the statement, 'Eighty-five per cent of the children were tubercular', in the context of socio-economic conditions in Greece at the end of the war. (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.3.3 Define the concept civil war in your own words. (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.3.4 Why do you think it was important for President Truman to indicate that Americans were observers during the Greek elections? (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.4 Consult Source 1B and Source 1C. Comment on how the two sources support each other regarding the conditions in Greece after the Second World War. (2 x 2) (4)
- 1.5 Use Source 1D.
- 1.5.1 Explain the messages conveyed by the cartoonist regarding Greece in 1947. (2 x 2) (4)
- 1.5.2 Which countries are represented by the following symbolic flags?
- (a) The dollar flag (1 x 2) (2)
- (b) The hammer and sickle flag (1 x 2) (2)
- 1.5.3 Comment on the limitations of the source for a historian researching the Cold War in Greece. (2 x 2) (4)
- 1.6 Using the information in the relevant sources and your own knowledge, write a paragraph of about EIGHT lines (about 80 words) explaining how Greece became a focal point in Cold War tensions between the United States of America (USA) and the Soviet Union at the end of the Second World War in 1945. (8) [50]

QUESTION 2: WHY DID FOREIGN POWERS BECOME INVOLVED IN ANGOLA DURING THE BATTLE OF CUITO CUANAVALÉ IN THE 1980s?

Study Sources 2A, 2B, 2C and 2D and answer the questions that follow.

2.1 Use Source 2A.

- 2.1.1 According to the source, when did the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale start? (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.1.2 Identify any TWO armies in the source who fought in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (2 x 1) (2)
- 2.1.3 Using the information in the source and your own knowledge, explain why Mavinga was targeted by FAPLA during the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (2 x 2) (4)
- 2.1.4 Comment on why the Cubans became involved in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (1 x 2) (2)

2.2 Consult Source 2B.

- 2.2.1 Give TWO Cuban government organs that took part in a joint meeting that decided to launch Operation Maniobra XXXI Aniversario. (2 x 1) (2)
- 2.2.2 Operation Maniobra XXXI Aniversario comprised a number of artillery/armed units for its effectiveness. Identify any TWO that are named in the source. (2 x 1) (2)
- 2.2.3 Explain what is meant when it is said that Cuba's decision to be involved in Cuito Cuanavale was 'symbolic'. (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.2.4 Explain the term Siege of Cuito Cuanavale in its historical context. (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.2.5 According to the source, why did the dispatch of the FAR's elite 50th Division to Angola become a major provocation to the SADF? (1 x 2) (2)

- 2.3 Read Source 2C.
- 2.3.1 Quote TWO objectives from the source that the SADF wanted to achieve through Operation Modular. (2 x 1) (2)
- 2.3.2 What is the implication of the statement, 'Operation Modular promised "the long-awaited breakthrough in the prevailing political, diplomatic, and military deadlock in the Angolan-SWA/Namibian conflict" '? (2 x 2) (4)
- 2.3.3 Define the concept negotiations in your own words. (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.3.4 Explain the usefulness of this source to a historian researching the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (2 x 2) (4)
- 2.4 Study Source 2D.
- 2.4.1 Explain the messages conveyed by the cartoon regarding the involvement of foreign powers in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (2 x 2) (4)
- 2.4.2 Comment on the caption 'THE THREE AMIGOS' in the context of the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.5 Refer to Sources 2C and 2D. Explain how the information in Source 2C supports the evidence in Source 2D regarding the involvement of foreign powers in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (2 x 2) (4)
- 2.6 Using the information in the relevant sources and your own knowledge, write a paragraph of about EIGHT lines (about 80 words) explaining why foreign powers became involved in Angola during the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale in the 1980s. (8)
- [50]

QUESTION 3: WHAT CHALLENGES WERE EXPERIENCED BY CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVISTS WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE FIRST MARCH FROM SELMA TO MONTGOMERY IN 1965?

Study Sources 3A, 3B, 3C and 3D and answer the questions that follow.

3.1 Use Source 3A.

- 3.1.1 Give THREE reasons in the source why the black population in Alabama was left disenfranchised and politically marginalised. (3 x 1) (3)
- 3.1.2 Why do you think the Alabama activists believed that by inviting Reverend Martin Luther King Jr, their campaign would be strengthened? (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.1.3 According to the source, why did the civil rights activists decide to march from Selma to Montgomery in 1965? (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.1.4 Explain why some of the activists believed the march would entail too much risk for too little gain. (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.1.5 Define the concept segregationist in your own words. (1 x 2) (2)

3.2 Read Source 3B.

- 3.2.1 Quote evidence from the source, which suggests that the march that took place on 7 March 1965 was non-violent. (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.2.2 Explain Major John Cloud's attitude towards the demonstrators. (2 x 2) (4)
- 3.2.3 Comment on what is meant by Bevel's statement, 'I felt like it was the last demonstration ... last breath from the teargas,' regarding how the activists were treated by the State Troopers on 7 March 1965. (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.2.4 Explain why a historian would consider this source reliable when studying the events of the First March from Selma to Montgomery in 1965. (2 x 2) (4)

3.3 Study Source 3C.

- 3.3.1 Explain why you think this photograph was taken during the First March from Selma to Montgomery in 1965. (2 x 2) (4)
- 3.3.2 Using the information in the source and your own knowledge, comment on why State Troopers used force against protestors during the First March from Selma to Montgomery in 1965. (1 x 2) (2)

- 3.4 Consult Source 3D.
- 3.4.1 Give TWO reasons, stated in the source, why the march of 7 March 1965 was organised. (2 x 1) (2)
- 3.4.2 Explain the term demonstrators in the context of the Selma to Montgomery March in 1965. (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.4.3 Quote THREE pieces of evidence from the source which shows that the State Troopers used excessive force against the demonstrators. (3 x 1) (3)
- 3.4.4 Explain the impact Bloody Sunday had on the Civil Rights Movement. (1 x 2) (2)
- 3.5 Refer to Sources 3C and 3D. Explain how these sources support each other regarding the reaction of the State Troopers to the First March from Selma to Montgomery on 7 March 1965. (2 x 2) (4)
- 3.6 Using the information in the relevant sources and your own knowledge, write a paragraph of about EIGHT lines (about 80 words) explaining challenges experienced by civil rights protestors who participated in the First March from Selma to Montgomery in 1965. (8) [50]

SECTION B: ESSAY QUESTIONS

Answer at least ONE question, but NOT more than TWO questions, in this section.

Your essay should be about THREE pages long.

QUESTION 4: THE EXTENSION OF THE COLD WAR: CASE STUDY – VIETNAM

The tactics used by the United States of America (USA) against the Viet Cong between 1960 and 1975 did not help to defeat them during the Vietnamese war.

Do you agree with the statement? Use relevant evidence to support your line of argument.

[50]*QUESTION 5: INDEPENDENT AFRICA: CASE STUDY – THE CONGO

Mobutu Sese Seko's political and economic policies, introduced by the newly independent Congo in the early 1960s, were welcomed by all the Congolese.

Using relevant evidence to support your response, critically discuss this statement.

[50]*QUESTION 6: CIVIL SOCIETY PROTESTS FROM THE 1950s TO THE 1970s:
THE BLACK POWER MOVEMENT

Explain to what extent the Black Power philosophy instilled confidence amongst African Americans to challenge discrimination in the United States of America (USA) from the 1960s to 1970s.

Use relevant evidence to support your line of argument.

QUESTION 1: HOW DID GREECE BECOME A FOCAL POINT IN COLD WAR TENSIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (USA) AND THE SOVIET UNION AT THE END OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR IN 1945?

SOURCE 1A

The source below has been taken from an article titled 'The Greek Inflation and the Flight from the Drachma, 1940–1948' by AJ Kondonassis and it was published in Economy and History Volume XX (1977).

During that period (Second World War years) the foundations were laid for the continuing price level inflation which plagued (affected) Greece after the formal end of World War II. The administrative, monetary (financial) and productive machinery of the Greek economy were unable to function effectively during the occupation period. Fear, uncertainty, political and economic chaos prevailed.

The occupation forces appropriated (took) the largest possible volume of Greek commodities for their own use and also for export to their respective homelands. Allied aid was largely non-existent, the internal transportation system deteriorated, and domestic production levels fell substantially (greatly) below the pre-war levels. Commodity hoarding (storing) became common practice and black markets developed rapidly. Simultaneously, the puppet (false) Bank of Greece was compelled, by the occupation forces and the puppet Greek government, to issue more and more bank notes to provide the occupation forces and their governments with the means of payments needed for their respective operations. The interaction of these non-monetary (non-financial) and monetary developments resulted in continuous deterioration of the purchasing power of the drachma (Greek currency) and in deterioration of the drachma's foreign exchange value in terms of gold, which in turn led to loss of confidence in the drachma and a rise in the velocity (speed) of circulation of money.

Greece (however) received some form of economic assistance from the United Kingdom (UK), United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) and the United States of America (USA).

The source below explains how the Greek Civil War (GCW) was shaped by the Cold War tension between the USSR and USA post Second World War.

When the Second World War ended in 1945 and the rest of Europe was beginning to rebuild itself, Greece entered into a second war, more vicious than that fought against the Axis powers. The Greek Civil War (GCW) was not only a bitter internal struggle between two ideologically irreconcilable Greek camps – the 'monarchofascists' (government army) and the 'bandits' (communist rebels).

The communists were veterans of guerrilla warfare and fought well. They received limited support from the USSR and Yugoslavia. Marshall Tito (of Yugoslavia) supplied the rebels with thousands of rifles, machine guns, anti-tank weapons and land mines. The communists lacked basic supplies like food, clothing and especially transport, however, they had just enough to carry on resistance, but not nearly enough to exert control.

President Harry Truman offered equipment and training to the Greek national army. Bolstered by this, the Greek government forces methodically pushed the rebels deeper into the mountains. American equipment and especially aircraft supported these operations. Some 158 000 Greeks may have died altogether as a result of the civil war. Greek economic devastation also was total ..., but the Marshall Plan would plant seeds of revival and healing – still incomplete – from the 20th century's most brutal civil wars.

The source below has been taken from an article titled 'Special Message to the Congress on Greece and Turkey: The Truman Doctrine' published in Voices of Democracy: The US Oratory Project by DM Bostdorff (2009). It explains how President Truman persuaded the USA Congress to support Greece politically and economically.

First, the USA President H Truman needed to convince Congress and American citizens that Greece was in a state of crisis and deserving of $250 million in aid. Truman told listeners that Greece was an 'industrious (hard-working), peace-loving country' that had 'suffered invasion, four years of cruel enemy occupation, and bitter internal strife'. According to the President, the Germans had destroyed the nation's infrastructure as they retreated (withdrew) and burned more than a thousand villages.

He gravely stated that at the war's end, 'Eighty-five per cent of the children were tubercular (had tuberculosis). Livestock, poultry, and draft (domestic) animals had almost disappeared. Inflation had wiped out practically all savings'. Furthermore, Truman warned, a 'militant minority' had chosen to exploit the situation, undermining (challenging) the economic recovery and political stability of the country.

The President (Truman) did not discuss the Greek government's own complicity (involvement), or the fact that the nation was in a state of civil war, which would have raised questions about the appropriateness of USA involvement. However, he did concede (admit) that the Greek government had not always acted wisely. According to Truman, the Greek government was 'not perfect', but it represented '85 per cent of the members of the Greek Parliament who were chosen in an election last year', overseen by international observers, including nearly 700 Americans. The President also excused some of the (Greek) government's 'mistakes' by emphasising that it was 'operating in an atmosphere of chaos and extremism (activism)'. Furthermore, he distanced his administration from the Greek government's most odious (horrible) acts by noting 'the extension of aid by this country does not mean that the USA condones (ignores) everything that the Greek government has done or will do'.

QUESTION 2: WHY DID FOREIGN POWERS BECOME INVOLVED IN ANGOLA DURING THE BATTLE OF CUITO CUANAVALÉ IN THE 1980s?*SOURCE 2A

Below is an extract from an article titled 'Cuito Cuanavale, Angola's 25th Anniversary of a Historical Battle' by Ronnie Kasrils. It was published in the Monthly Review – An Independent Socialist Magazine in 2013. It explains why the Soviet Union, South Africa and Cuba were involved in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale between 1987 and 1988.

The prelude (run-up) to the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale started in July 1987 when Angolan government forces, the People's Armed Forces of Liberation of Angola (FAPLA), under the guidance of Soviet military officers, attempted to advance on Jonas Savimbi's National Union for the Total Independence of Angola (UNITA) stronghold at Mavinga. This was the strategic key to his base at Jamba near the Caprivi Strip – a long finger of land, under South African military control, stretching as far as Zambia. At first the offensive progressed well and FAPLA gained the upper hand, inflicting (causing) heavy casualties on UNITA and driving them south towards Mavinga. Then, in October, FAPLA's advancing 47th Brigade, forty kilometres southeast of Cuito at the Lomba River, was all but destroyed in an attack by the South African Defence Force (SADF) hastening (rushing) from Namibia to UNITA's rescue.

Catastrophe (disaster) followed as several other FAPLA brigades wilted (disappeared) under heavy bombardment, and bedraggled (messy) stragglers (idlers) retreated to Cuito Cuanavale. The situation could not have been graver (bleak). Cuito could have been overrun then and there by the SADF, changing the strategic situation overnight. The interior of the country would have been opened up to domination by UNITA, resulting in Angola being split in half – something Pretoria and Savimbi had been aiming at for years. But the SADF failed to seize the initiative. This allowed an initial contingent (group) of 120 Cuban troops to rush to the town from Menongue, 150 kilometres to the northwest, and help organise the defences. As the ferocious (violent) siege (barricade) developed, Pretoria's generals and Western diplomats predicted Cuito's imminent (forthcoming) fall.

SOURCE 2B

The extract below, written by a historian, Edward George, and taken from a book titled The Cuban Intervention in Angola from Che Guavara to Cuito Cuanavale, explains Cuba's strategic intervention in Angola during the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale in 1987.

The decision to launch Operation Maniobra XXXI Aniversario was taken at a joint meeting of the Politburo, Revolutionary Armed Forces (FAR) and the Ministry of Interior (MININT), and involved an initial reinforcement of 3 000 Cuban troops to bolster Cuito Cuanavale's defences. It comprised one armoured brigade, several self-propelled air-to-air (AA missiles) units, including surface-to-air missiles (SAM-8s), one rapid response unit, and a contingent (group) of the (MININT) Special Forces which Castro offered personally.

The choice of Cuito Cuanavale for a final stand against the South Africans was as much pre-emptive (preventive) – to prevent the fall of Menongue – as it was symbolic. The Siege of Cuito Cuanavale would perform another essential function, however, providing Castro with the crucial showdown with the South Africans he needed before withdrawing his forces from Angola, and over the next two months he would override repeated requests from his officers in Angola to withdraw from Cuito Cuanavale. Like its predecessor, Operation Carlota, Maniobra XXXI Aniversario also had long-term objectives beyond the defence of Cuito Cuanavale.

While reinforcements raced to Cuando Cubango, Castro secretly started building up a large force in Lubango in preparation for a move into southwest Angola. The FAR's elite 50th Division – Castro's personal division which guarded the American base in Guantánamo (Cuba) – was dispatched to Angola to spearhead (lead) this manoeuvre (plan), and by early January 1988 the first 3 500 Cuban troops had moved into Cunene.

But it was a major provocation (cause of trouble) to the SADF which had operated free of Cuban interference in the area for nearly eight years, and would provide both sides with an alternative theatre for the bloody climax of the war in late June.

The extract below, written by Major Jayson N Williams of the United States Army, was taken from Contested Narratives: South African and Cuban Military Action in Angola (1987–1988) A Monograph. It explains South Africa's involvement in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale through Operation Modular against the Soviet-backed FAPLA.

From the Republic of South Africa's (RSA) perspective, Operation Modular, while appearing offensive in practice, was primarily defensive in purpose. UNITA's failure to stop the Soviet-Angolan offensive had forced the RSA to intervene to save its ally. The SADF had two principle objectives for the operation. The first objective was to halt FAPLA's attack to defeat UNITA in Angola. The SADF perceived that FAPLA's operational objective was to seize the city of Jamba, UNITA's headquarters, with intermediate objectives that included crossing the Lomba River and seizing Mavinga in order to allow that operation.

After accomplishing the first objective, the SADF's second objective was to destroy FAPLA east of the Cuito River or, failing to accomplish that, at least push FAPLA west of that linear water obstacle. Success would create space for UNITA to defend against future attacks and force FAPLA to consider the tactical cost of conducting a contested river crossing before reinitiating offensive operations against UNITA.

If Operation Modular helped stop the Soviet-backed FAPLA offensive to retake south-eastern Angola, the RSA could maintain the buffer zone that UNITA provided to Namibia and South Africa. Operation Modular promised 'the long-awaited breakthrough in the prevailing political, diplomatic, and military deadlock in the Angolan-SWA/Namibian conflict'. Further military success could support favourable negotiations with the MPLA. If the SADF were to threaten the defeat of FAPLA or make significant territorial gains inside of Angola, the RSA could have a significant advantage during these talks.

QUESTION 3: WHAT CHALLENGES WERE EXPERIENCED BY CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVISTS WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE FIRST MARCH FROM SELMA TO MONTGOMERY IN 1965?*SOURCE 3A

This source, taken from the book, Eyes on the Prize: America's Civil Rights Years: 1954–1965 by J Williams, explains why the Alabama activists led the voter registration drives and also decided to march from Selma to Montgomery.

Years of bigotry (racism), discrimination and intimidation left the black population of Alabama disenfranchised (excluded from voting) and politically marginalised (side-lined); in Dallas County, where Selma is located, fewer than ten per cent of eligible blacks (those who qualified) were registered to vote.

In 1964, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and local activists intensified (strengthened) the voter registration drive, hoping to dismantle Alabama's white supremacist (racist) political system. Early in 1965, Alabama activists invited the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and Reverend Dr Martin Luther King Jr, to bolster (strengthen) the campaign.

While Selma was chosen as the focal point, similar voter registration activities were held in nearby towns and counties (districts). Tensions reached fever pitch in February 1965, when police killed Jimmie Lee Jackson, a 26-year-old army veteran, at a demonstration in Marion, twenty miles northwest of Selma. Outraged by this latest police act of violence, activists decided to march from Selma to Montgomery, the state capital, in protest and honour of Jackson.

Some SNCC members, however, voiced concerns that the 40–50 mile march entailed (involved) too much risk for too little gain. Despite opposition from within his organisation, SNCC chairman, John Lewis, decided to lead the march with the SCLC's field director Hosea Williams. Together they led marchers to face two of the state's most dangerous men: George Wallace, Alabama's arch-segregationist governor and Jim Clark, a police sheriff known for his hot temper and unusual brutality.

The source below is an eyewitness account by Reverend James Bevel, a Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) strategist (planner) of the First March from Selma to Montgomery that took place on 7 March 1965. It highlights the challenges experienced by the civil rights activists as they were crossing the Edmund Pettus Bridge on their way to Montgomery.

When we arrived at the apex (top) of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, we saw a sea of blue: Alabama State Troopers. Six hundred of us were walking in twos. It was a very peaceful, orderly protest.

The moment we got within shouting distance of the State Troopers, we heard one State Trooper identify himself. He said, 'I'm Major John Cloud, the commander in charge. This is an unlawful march. It will not be allowed to continue. I'll give you three minutes to disperse and go back to your church.' In about a minute and a half he said, 'Troopers advance,' and we saw the State Troopers and members of Sheriff Clark's posse (group) on horseback. The State Troopers came towards us with billy clubs (bats), tear gas, bullwhips, trampling us with horses.

I felt like it was the last demonstration, the last protest on my part, like I was going to take my last breath from the teargas. I saw people screaming and hollering (shouting). We couldn't proceed forward. If we tried to go forward we would've gone into the heat of battle. We couldn't go to the side, to the left or the right, because we would have been going into the Alabama River, so we were beaten back down the streets of Selma, back to the church. By the time the attack was over, nearly 60 marchers were treated for injuries at a local hospital; of those, 17 were hospitalised, including John Lewis, whose skull had been fractured.

SOURCE 3D

The source below has been taken from a newspaper article in The New York Times of 8 March 1965 – the day after 7 March 1965. It highlights how the demonstrators were attacked by State Troopers with most of them suffering serious injuries and ending in hospital.

On 7 March 1965, State Troopers and a sheriff's posse (group) in Selma, Alabama, attacked 525 civil rights demonstrators taking part in a march between Selma and Montgomery, the state capital. The march was organised to promote black voter registration and to protest the killing of a young black man, Jimmie Lee Jackson, by a State Trooper during an 18 February voter registration march in a nearby city.

As the demonstrators crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, they were ordered by the police to disperse. When they stood in place, the State Troopers charged at them.

'The first 10 or 20 Negroes* were swept to the ground screaming, arms and legs flying and packs and bags went skittering (flying) across the grassy divider strip and on to the pavement on both sides.' 'Those still on their feet retreated. The State Troopers continued pushing, using both the force of their bodies and the prodding (knocking) of their nightsticks.'

The police also fired tear gas at the crowd and charged on horseback. More than 50 demonstrators were injured. There was a makeshift hospital near the local church. 'Negroes lay on the floors and chairs, many weeping and moaning. A girl in red slacks was carried from the house screaming.' Amelia Boynton lay semiconscious on a table. 'From the hospital came a report that the victims had suffered fractures of ribs, heads, arms and legs, in addition to cuts and bruises.'

The day of violence, which became known as Bloody Sunday, was covered in newspapers across the country and broadcast on national news, outraging many Americans. A photo of Mrs Boynton lying unconscious on the bridge became the most enduring image of the day.

1. SOURCE-BASED QUESTIONS

1.1 The following cognitive levels were used to develop source-based questions:

Cognitive Levels	Historical skills	Weighting of questions
LEVEL 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Extract evidence from sources</li> <li>Selection and organisation of relevant information from sources</li> <li>Define historical concepts/terms</li> </ul>	30% (15)
LEVEL 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Interpretation of evidence from sources</li> <li>Explain information gathered from sources</li> <li>Analyse evidence from sources</li> </ul>	40% (20)
LEVEL 3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Interpret and evaluate evidence from sources</li> <li>Engage with sources to determine its usefulness, reliability, bias and limitations</li> <li>Compare and contrast interpretations and perspectives presented in sources and draw independent conclusions</li> </ul>	30% (15)

1.2 The information below indicates how source-based questions are assessed:

- In the marking of source-based questions, credit needs to be given to any other valid and relevant viewpoints, arguments, evidence or examples.
- In the allocation of marks, emphasis should be placed on how the requirements of the question have been addressed.
- In the marking guidelines, the requirements of the question (skills that need to be addressed) as well as the level of the question are indicated in italics.

1.3 Assessment procedures for source-based questions

- Use a tick (✓) for each correct answer.
- Pay attention to the mark scheme e.g. (2 x 2) which translates to two reasons and is given two marks each (✓✓✓✓); (1 x 2) which translates to one reason and is given two marks (✓✓).
- If a question carries 4 marks then indicate by placing 4 ticks (✓✓✓✓).

Paragraph question

Paragraphs are to be assessed globally (holistically). Both the content and structure of the paragraph must be taken into account when awarding a mark. The following steps must be used when assessing a response to a paragraph question:

- Read the paragraph and place a bullet (.) at each point within the text where the candidate has used relevant evidence to address the question.
- Re-read the paragraph to evaluate the extent to which the candidate has been able to use relevant evidence to write a paragraph.

- At the end of the paragraph indicate the ticks (√) that the candidate has been awarded for the paragraph; as well as the level (1, 2 or 3) as indicated in the holistic rubric and a brief comment, e.g.

Level 2

Used mostly relevant evidence to write a basic paragraph.

- Count all the ticks for the source-based question and then write the mark on the bottom margin to the right, e.g.  $\frac{32}{50}$
- Ensure that the total mark is transferred accurately to the front/back cover of the answer script.

2. ESSAY QUESTIONS

2.1 The essay questions require candidates to:

Be able to structure their argument in a logical and coherent manner. They need to select, organise and connect the relevant information so that they are able to present a reasonable sequence of facts or an effective argument to answer the question posed. It is essential that an essay has an introduction, a coherent and balanced body of evidence and a conclusion.

2.2 Marking of essay questions

Candidates may have any other relevant introduction and/or conclusion than those included in a specific essay marking guideline for a specific essay.

2.3 Global assessment of the essay

The essay will be assessed holistically (globally). This approach requires the teacher to assess the essay as a whole, rather than assessing the main points of the essay separately. This approach encourages the learner to write an original argument by using relevant evidence to support the line of argument. The learner will not be required to simply regurgitate content (facts) in order to achieve a level 7 (high mark). This approach discourages learners from preparing essays and reproducing them without taking the specific requirements of the question into account. Holistic marking of the essay credits learners' opinions that are supported by evidence. Holistic assessment, unlike content-based marking, does not penalise language inadequacies as the emphasis is on the following:

- The learner's interpretation of the question
- The appropriate selection of factual evidence (relevant content selection)
- The construction of an argument (planned, structured and has an independent line of argument)

2.4 Assessment procedures of the essay

2.4.1 Keep the synopsis in mind when assessing the essay.

2.4.2 During the reading of the essay, ticks need to be awarded for a relevant introduction (which is indicated by a bullet in the marking guidelines), the main aspects/body of the essay that sustains/defends the line of argument (which is indicated by bullets in the marking guideline) and a relevant conclusion (which is indicated by a bullet in the marking guideline). For example in an essay where there are five (5) main points there could be about seven (7) ticks.

2.4.3 Keep the PEEL structure in mind when assessing an essay.

P	Point: The candidate introduces the essay by taking a line of argument/making a major point. Each paragraph should include a point that sustains the major point (line of argument) that was made in the introduction.
E	Explanation: The candidate should explain in more detail what the main point is about and how it relates to the question posed (line of argument).
E	Example: The candidates should answer the question by selecting content that is relevant to the line of argument. Relevant examples should be given to sustain the line of argument.
L	Link: Candidates should ensure that the line of argument is sustained throughout the essay and is written coherently.

2.4.4 The following symbols MUST be used when assessing an essay:

- Introduction, main aspects and conclusion not properly contextualised

^

- Wrong statement

- Irrelevant statement

2.5 The matrix

2.5.1 Use of the matrix in the marking of essays

In the marking of essays, the criteria as provided in the matrix should be used. When assessing the essay note both the content and presentation. At the point of intersection of the content and presentation based on the seven competency levels, a mark should be awarded.

- (a) The first reading of essays will be to determine to what extent the main aspects have been covered and to allocate the content level (on the matrix).

C	LEVEL 4

- (b) The second reading of essays will relate to the level (on the matrix) of presentation.

C	LEVEL 4
P	LEVEL 3

- (c) Allocate an overall mark with the use of the matrix.

C	LEVEL 4	}26–27
P	LEVEL 3

SECTION A: SOURCE-BASED QUESTIONS*QUESTION 1: HOW DID GREECE BECOME A FOCAL POINT IN COLD WAR TENSIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (USA) AND THE SOVIET UNION AT THE END OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR IN 1945?

1.1

1.1.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 1A - L1]

- 'administrative'
- 'monetary (financial)'
- 'productive machinery' (3 x 1) (3)

1.1.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1A – L2]

- The damage caused by the Second World War/Greek Civil War
- Greece was economically and politically in chaos
- The plundering of resources/infrastructure in Greece by occupation forces
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

1.1.3 [Extraction of evidence from Source 1A – L1]

- 'to provide the occupation forces and their government with the means of payments needed for their respective operations' (1 x 2) (2)

1.1.4 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1A – L2]

- To assist in the rehabilitation of the Greek economy
- To prevent Greece from falling into the hands of the communists/
Containment Policy
- To ensure that capitalism/Marshall Plan/Truman Doctrine reigns over Europe
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

1.2

1.2.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 1B – L1]

- 'Greek Civil War' (1 x 2) (2)

1.2.2 [Explanation of a historical concept from Source 1B – L2]

- Greek nationals who with the support of the Soviet bloc, challenged and attempted to take over the Greek government
- Greek nationals who adopted communism and rebelled against the Greek government because of deteriorated economic conditions after the Second World War
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

1.2.3 [Extraction of evidence from Source 1B – L1]

- 'equipment'
- 'training' (1 x 2) (2)

1.3

1.3.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 1C – L1]

- 'industrious (hard-working) country'
- 'peace loving country'
- 'had 'suffered invasion, four years of cruel enemy occupation, and bitter internal strife'
- 'The Germans had destroyed the nation's infrastructure ... and burned more than a thousand villages'

1.3.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1C – L2]

- The Greek government was unable to provide proper health facilities to protect the vulnerable citizens like children
- Food security was compromised by broken infrastructure
- Civil war in Greece destroyed its economy and health system
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

1.3.3 [Definition of a historical concept from Source 1C – L1]

- A war between people of the same country, nationality or region based on different ideas
- Any other relevant response (1 x 2) (2)

1.3.4 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1C – L2]

- To convince the Congress and American citizens that Greek elections were credible, free and fair
- To justify support for Greece
- To ensure that Congress finds no grounds to reject the request to assist Greece
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

1.4 [Comparison of Sources 1B and 1C to ascertain similarities – L3]

- Both sources refer to the bitter internal struggle/the Greek Civil War
- Both sources refer to the economic collapse/devastation of the Greek economy
- Both sources refer to social impact of the Greek Civil War
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

1.5

1.5.1 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1D – L2]

- Greece was a focal point of Cold War tensions between the USA and the Soviet Union in 1947
- The Soviet Union and the USA clashed over Greece due to their ambitions for ideological domination
- The Greek government was helpless and vulnerable to the Cold War between USA and the Soviet Union
- Greece could be taken over by the communists, the Soviet train is bigger and longer
- Greece (fear on the face) is looking at USA for assistance
- Any other relevant response

(any 2 x 2) (4)

1.5.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 1D – L2]

- (a) The USA/America (1 x 2) (2)
- (b) The USSR/Soviet Union/Russia (1 x 2) (2)

1.5.3 [Determining the limitations of Source 1D – L3]

- It is only a view of the cartoonist
- It belittles the presence of the USA in Greece by showing only a piece of the head of its train while the USSR is depicted as dominant
- Any other relevant response

(2 x 2) (4)

1.6 [Interpretation, evaluation and synthesis from relevant sources – L3]

Candidates could include the following aspects in their response

- During the Second World War years, Greek economy deteriorated (Source 1A)
- The damage caused by the Second World War destroyed its economy making Greece vulnerable for Cold War protagonists (Source 1A)
- The occupation forces impoverished Greece by taking away its commodities. (Source 1A)
- The civil war in Greece invited foreign ideological intervention as a pretext for rebuilding the country (Own knowledge)
- Greece Civil War started at the end of the Second World War (Source 1B)
- Both the capitalists and the communists were actively involved in the Greek Civil War (Sources 1B and 1C)
- President Truman (USA) offered equipment and training to the Greek national army (Source 1B)
- Communists in Greece received support from USSR and Yugoslavia (Source 1B)
- America's President Truman asked for funds from Congress to assist Greece against a militant minority influenced by communists (Source 1C)
- The Soviet Union denied being involved in the Greek conflict (Own knowledge)
- The USA and the Soviet Union presence in Greece was a threat to its existence (Source 1D)
- Any other relevant response

Use the following rubric to allocate marks:

LEVEL 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Uses evidence in an elementary manner, e.g. shows no or little understanding of how Greece became a focal point in Cold War tensions between the United States of America (USA) and the Soviet Union at the end of the Second World War in 1945.</li> <li>• Uses evidence partially or cannot write a paragraph.</li> </ul>	MARKS 0–2
LEVEL 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Evidence is mostly relevant and relates to a great extent on the topic, e.g. shows some understanding of how Greece became a focal point in Cold War tensions between the United States of America (USA) and the Soviet Union at the end of the Second World War in 1945.</li> <li>• Uses evidence in a very basic manner to write a paragraph.</li> </ul>	MARKS 3–5
LEVEL 3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Uses relevant evidence, e.g. demonstrates a thorough understanding of how Greece became a focal point in Cold War tensions between the United States of America (USA) and the Soviet Union at the end of the Second World War in 1945.</li> <li>• Uses evidence very effectively in an organised paragraph that shows an understanding of the topic.</li> </ul>	MARKS 6–8

QUESTION 2: WHY DID FOREIGN POWERS BECOME INVOLVED IN ANGOLA DURING THE BATTLE OF CUITO CUANAVALÉ IN THE 1980s?

2.1

2.1.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2A - L1]

- 'July 1987'
- 'when Angolan government forces, ... FAPLA under the guidance of Soviet military officers, attempted to advance on Savimbi's UNITA stronghold at Mavinga' (any 1 x 2) (2)

2.1.2 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2A - L1]

- 'People's Armed Forces of Liberation of Angola (FAPLA)'
- 'National Union for the Total Independence of Angola (UNITA)'
- 'South African Defence Force (SADF)'
- 'Cuban troops' (any 2 x 1) (2)

2.1.3 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2A – L2]

- To destroy UNITA army bases situated there
- It was a gateway to Jamba, the UNITA headquarters
- To liberate the town from the control of UNITA/legitimise control by FAPLA
- To destroy UNITA supply routes from Namibia through the airstrip used by the SADF
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

2.1.4 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2A – L2]

- To come to the rescue of the Angolan government which was threatened by the SADF's presence in Angola
- To support FAPLA forces against SADF
- It was part of Cuba's policy of revolutionary internationalism and of pledging solidarity with African countries
- To defend the Marxist-Communist ideology embraced by the MPLA government
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

2.2

2.2.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2B – L1]

- 'Politburo'
  - 'Revolutionary Armed Forces (FAR)'
  - 'Ministry of Interior (MININT)'
- (any 2 x 1) (2)

2.2.2 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2B – L1]

- 'One armed brigade'
  - 'Several self-propelled air-to-air missile (AA missile) units including surface- to-air missiles (SAM-8s)'
  - 'One rapid response unit'
  - 'Contingent (group) of the MININT Special Forces'
- (any 2 x 1) (2)

- 2.2.3 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2B – L2]
- It provided Cuba (Castro) an opportunity to fight South Africa (SADF) before withdrawing from Angola
  - SADF-UNITA assaults should be defeated and Namibe-Lubango–Menongue line defended
  - To maintain a policy of revolutionary internationalism
  - To defend Socialism/Communism/to challenge Capitalism
  - To show solidarity with the MPLA (Angolan government)
  - It changed the political landscape in southern Africa – accelerated the liberation of Namibia
  - Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)
- 2.2.4 [Explanation of a historical term from Source 2B – L2]
- A SADF military operation surrounding the town of Cuito Cuanavale to cut supplies with the aim of having enemy forces (FAPLA and Cuban soldiers) surrender
  - Any other relevant response (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.2.5 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2B – L1]
- 'The SADF operated free of Cuban interference in the area for nearly eight years, and would provide both sides with an alternative theatre for the bloody climax of the war' (1 x 2) (2)
- 2.3
- 2.3.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2C – L1]
- 'To halt FAPLA's attack to defeat UNITA in Angola'
  - 'To destroy FAPLA east of the Cuito River or, failing to accomplish that, at least push FAPLA west of that linear water obstacle' (2 x 1) (2)
- 2.3.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2C – L2]
- If Operation Modular succeeded, South Africa would have significant advantage in negotiations for independence of Namibia
  - Negotiations between parties would lead to an amicable resolution of the military conflict
  - Breakthrough was reached when Cuba withdrew from Angola with South Africa withdrawing from South West Africa, leading to the subsequent independence of Namibia
  - Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)
- 2.3.3 [Definition of a concept from Source 2C – L1]
- Talks held between warring factions to resolve the conflict
  - Any other relevant response (1 x 2) (2)

2.3.4 *[Determining usefulness of Source 2C – L3]The source is USEFUL because:

- It is based on a research document by Major Jayson Williams of the US Army
- The title of the book, Contested Narratives: ..., suggest a balanced overview of Cuban and South Africa's involvement in the Angolan civil war
- The information can be corroborated by evidence from Sources 2A, 2B and 2D in terms of the involvement of foreign powers
- It reveals the reasons for the involvement of South Africa in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale through Operation Modular
- It highlights conditions leading to the independence of Namibia
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

2.4

2.4.1 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2D – L2]

- It depicts foreign powers such as USA and South Africa pledging their support to UNITA in defence of their capitalistic ideologies
- USA and South Africa befriended UNITA hoping to install a pro-Western capitalist government in Angola to further their interests
- It suggests the withdrawal of Cuban forces from Angola
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

2.4.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2D – L2]

- The USA, South Africa and UNITA worked together during the Angolan conflict because they saw Soviet and Cuban involvement as part of a communist plan to dominate southern Africa
- Their common purpose was to block Soviet expansion into the subcontinent
- They wanted the withdrawal of Cubans from Angola
- They were all bound by an ideology of capitalism
- Any other relevant resources (any 1 x 2) (2)

2.5 [Comparison of evidence from Sources 2C and 2D to ascertain how they support each other - L3]

- In Source 2C reference is made of South Africa intervening in the Angolan civil war to save its ally (UNITA) and in Source 2D PW Botha (SA) is seen with Savimbi (UNITA) as part of the 'Three Amigos'
- In Source 2C reference is made of Operation Modular directed at stopping the Soviet backed FAPLA offensive and in Source 2D the 'Three Amigos' represent an anti-Soviet backed FAPLA offensive
- Source 2C highlights that Operation Modular could give South Africa an advantage to solve the deadlock over Angola – SWA/Namibia conflict and in Source 2D the 'Three Amigos' are seen standing over Namibia
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

2.6 [Interpretation, evaluation and synthesis of evidence from relevant sources – L3]

Candidates could include the following aspects in their response.

- Battle of Cuito Cuanavale started in 1987 due to Soviet backing FAPLA's intentions to seize the UNITA headquarters of Jamba (Source 2A)
- Skirmishes between UNITA and FAPLA took place at the Lomba River with South Africa coming to UNITA's rescue (Source 2A)
- Cuba intervened and helped defend Cuito Cuanavale when SADF and UNITA nearly overran FAPLA (Source 2A)
- Cuban launched Operation Maniobra XXXI Aniversario to defend Cuito Cuanavale against the SADF and UNITA (Source 2B)
- Castro was willing to engage South Africa during the siege of Cuito Cuanavale to prevent the fall of Menongue (Source 2B)
- Castro sent reinforcements to Lubango to prepare for a move into south west Angola threatening the SADF who operated freely in this area (Source 2B)
- South Africa got involved in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale through Operation Modular to save its ally UNITA against the Soviet-Angolan offensive (Source 2C)
- SADF wanted to destroy FAPLA east of the Cuito River to create space for UNITA in order to defend itself against future attacks from FAPLA (Source 2C)
- Operation Modular could lead to military success for South Africa which in turn could open up the way for negotiations with the MPLA government (Source 2C)
- Foreign powers such as the USA and South Africa got involved in Angola to help their ally UNITA to fight against communism (Source 2D)
- Ceasefire was reached that Cuba withdraw its troops from Angola with South Africa withdrawing from South West Africa (own knowledge)
- Any other relevant response

Use the following rubric to allocate marks:

LEVEL 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Uses evidence in an elementary manner, e.g. shows no or little understanding of why foreign powers became involved in Angola during the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale in the 1980s.</li> <li>• Uses evidence partially or cannot write a paragraph.</li> </ul>	MARKS 0–2

  - They believed that the non-violent forms of protest, had not achieved much before
  - The activists knew that they could be attacked by the supremacists and would not get any protection from the police or achieve their goals
  - Any other relevant response
- (any 1 x 2) (2)

3.1.5 [Definition of a historical concept in own words from Source 3A – L1]

- One who believes that people of different races should be kept apart in all aspects of life
  - A person who enforces the laws that separate people based on the belief that the whites are superior and the blacks are inferior
  - Any other relevant response
- (any 1 x 2) (2)

3.2

3.2.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 3B – L1]

- 'It was a very peaceful orderly protest' (1 x 2) (2)

3.2.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Sources 3B – L2]

- He did not have compassion for the marchers
- He strictly applied strict orders
- He believed in the use of force to discourage the activists from marching
- He supported police brutality/aggression/violence
- He was racist (upholding Jim Crow Laws)
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

3.2.3 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 3B - L2]

- He felt that he might die at that moment and would not be able to participate in other demonstrations
- He realised that the demonstrations or marches exposed them to danger
- Any other relevant response (1 x 2) (2)

3.2.4 *[Assessing reliability of Source 3B – L3]The source is RELIABLE because:

- It is an eye-witness account by Reverend James Bevel
- It reflects Reverend James Bevel as a SCLC strategist for the First March from Selma to Montgomery
- Reverend James Bevel was an activist who took part in the march and witnessed the police brutality during the First Selma to Montgomery March
- The source is based on the 7 March 1965 horrific event that took place on the Edmund Pettus Bridge, this is validated/corroborated by other historical sources (Sources 3A, 3C and 3D)
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

3.3

3.3.1 [Interpretation of information from Source 3C - L2]

- To show how the police used force to stop the marchers on 7 March 1965
- To show where the protestors were stopped by the police – at the Edmund Pettus Bridge
- For publicity - in sympathy with the cause of the activists
- To expose police brutality
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

3.3.2 [Interpretation of information from Source 3C - L2]

- The First Selma to Montgomery March was not authorised (was illegal)
- The state still applied segregatory laws and reacted strongly against civil rights protestors
- The culture of police brutality against African Americans and their sympathisers still prevailed
- To stop protestors from getting permission for voter registration
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

3.4

3.4.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 3D – L1]

- 'To promote black voter registration'
- 'To protest the killing of a young black man, Jimmie Lee Jackson' (2 x 1) (2)

3.4.2 [Explanation of a historical term from Source 3D – L2]

- Civil Rights activists who peacefully challenged existing laws in the USA by participating in the First March from Selma to Montgomery
- Civil Rights activists who decided to march from Selma to Montgomery to demand voting rights
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

3.4.3 [Extraction of evidence from Source 3D – L1]

- 'The first 10 or 20 Negroes were swept to the ground, screaming, arms and legs flying'
- 'packs and bags went skittering across the grassy divider strip and to the top of the pavement on both sides'
- 'the state troopers continued pushing, using both the force of their bodies and the prodding of their nightsticks'
- 'Those still on their feet retreated'
- 'They fired teargas at the crowd'
- 'They charged on horseback'
- 'More than 50 demonstrators were injured'
- 'Negroes lay on the floors and chairs, many weeping and moaning'
- 'A girl in red slacks was carried from the house screaming'
- 'Amelia Boynton lay semiconscious on a table'
- 'Victims had suffered fractures of ribs, heads, arms and legs, in addition to cuts and bruises'
- 'A photo of Mrs Boynton lying unconscious on the bridge became the most enduring image of the day' (any 3 x 1) (3)

3.4.4 [Interpretation of information from Source 3D - L2]

- The Civil Rights Movement received a lot of sympathy and wide support
- It exposed police brutality while legitimising civil rights activities
- It strengthened their struggle against segregation
- Any other relevant response (any 1 x 2) (2)

3.5 [Comparison of evidence in Sources 3C and 3D to ascertain how they support each other – L3]

- Both sources confirm that the State Troopers waited for the demonstrators at the Edmund Pettus Bridge
- Both sources confirm police brutality (police shown charging at demonstrators in Source 3C and reference made to State Troopers charging at demonstrators in Source 3D)
- Both sources confirm that marchers were injured (fallen down in Source 3C and reference to more than 50 injured in Source 3D)
- In Source 3C the police are wearing gas masks to protect themselves from the harmful gas and Source 3D explains how the teargas was used by the police during the demonstration affected the demonstrators
- Source 3C depicts the attack on demonstrators by State troopers and Source 3D indicate that many were hospitalised
- Any other relevant response (any 2 x 2) (4)

3.6 [Interpretation, evaluation and synthesis of evidence from relevant sources - L3]

Candidates could include the following aspects in their response.

- Segregatory laws left many African Americans disenfranchised (Source 3A)
- The civil rights activists planned to march from Selma to Montgomery on 7 March 1965 to protest against the exclusion of the African from the voter registration (Source 3A)
- Martin Luther was not available to lead the planned Selma to Montgomery march so that it could be more significant
- The segregationist George Wallace and police Sheriff, Jim Clark always attacked the protestors (Source 3A)
- The marches were always at high risk, if the segregationists attacked the protestors the police would not protect them/protestors experienced abuse by troopers (Own knowledge)
- The first march from Selma - Montgomery on 7 March 1965 was stopped by the state troopers, leaving several activists injured and hospitalised (Sources 3B and 3D)
- Some of the whites (supremacists and segregationists) did not support the march, they were either bystanders or encouraged the police to stop the protests (Own knowledge)
- Protestors always had to dress up warmly and carry a bag of essentials when they joined the marches because they could be arrested and sent to jail (Own knowledge)
- Harmful objects like bats and teargas were used to disperse the protestors (Sources 3C and 3D)
- The seriously injured protestors were taken to a local makeshift hospital (Source 3D)
- There was no immediate reaction from government to condemn the police brutality or show support for those that had been injured on the Bloody Sunday (Own knowledge)
- Any other relevant response

Use the following rubric to allocate marks:

LEVEL 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Uses evidence in an elementary manner e.g. shows no or little understanding of the challenges experienced by civil rights activists who participated in the first march from Selma to Montgomery in 1965.</li> <li>• Uses evidence partially or cannot write a paragraph.</li> </ul>	MARKS 0 – 2

SECTION B: ESSAY QUESTIONS*QUESTION 4: THE EXTENSION OF THE COLD WAR: CASE STUDY – VIETNAM

[Plan and construct an original argument based on relevant evidence using analytical and interpretative skills]

SYNOPSIS

Candidates should explain whether they agree or disagree that the tactics used by the USA against the Vietcong could not help to defeat the Vietcong during the Vietnamese war. In agreeing with the statement, they need to explain how the tactics failed. If the candidates disagree with the statement they need to substantiate their line of argument with relevant historical evidence.

MAIN ASPECTS

Candidates should include the following aspects in their response:

- Introduction: Candidates should take a stance by indicating whether they agree or disagree that the tactics used by the USA against the Vietcong could not help to defeat the Vietcong during the Vietnamese war. They should also provide an outline of how they would support their line of argument.

ELABORATION

Focus on the strategies used by both the USA and the Vietcong.

- Conditions immediately before the war:
  - The division of Vietnam and the formation of the Vietcong
  - Reasons for USA involvement: containment and domino theory
- USA's first intervention in South Vietnam was to send weapons and military advisors between 1957 and 1965 – first phase – against the Vietcong (Vietnamese communist)
- Ho Chi Minh Trail was used by the Vietminh (communist guerrillas from North Vietnam) to support the Vietcong – Helped to supply the Vietcong with food and weapons
- USA used their resources to introduce 'Safe Village' policy/Hamlet strategy/Villagisation – trying to isolate/separate guerrillas from villagers (1963)
- Safe village policy failed because the Vietcong operated inside villages
- The Gulf of Tonkin incident and resolution (1964)
- The USA relied on modern technology for a conventional war
- USA sent 3 500 marines on 8 March 1965 and ground troops to Vietnam/ conventional military strategy were confused by guerrilla tactics
- Operation Ranch Hand (1962 – 1971) – use of chemical defoliants (Agent Orange to destroy the forest) and Agent Blue (to destroy agricultural products and food to weaken the Vietcong)
- Use of chemical weapons made USA unpopular and many countries condemned the USA
- President Johnson introduced Operation Rolling Thunder in March 1965 hoping to eliminate the Vietcong in a matter of weeks
- Guerrilla warfare by the Vietminh and Vietcong (difficulty in separating guerrillas from villagers – farmers/peasants)
- Vietcong responded with the Tet Offensive (1968) – successful surprised attacks on 100 cities controlled by the USA

- Number of USA soldiers killed increased – led to anti-war demonstrations
  - Highly effective use of guerrilla tactics by the Vietcong
  - USA sent young and inexperienced soldiers to Vietnam – modern weapons could not assist due to inexperience of young USA soldiers
  - USA used modern weapons for search and destroy missions (My Lai massacre) to destroy villages supported by Vietcong
  - This resulted in large numbers of civilian deaths – which called for more support for the Vietcong
  - USA atrocities and My Lai massacre (March 1968) turned public opinion against the war
  - North Vietnam received military support from the USSR and China so the Vietminh and Vietcong also had access to some modern weapons
  - Guerrilla warfare was effectively used by the Vietcong, supported by Vietminh from the north and used tactics such as booby traps, underground tunnels, hit and run, sabotage
  - The Vietcong increased its support base because of the tactics used against the USA soldiers
  - The Vietnamese were united in the defence of their country
  - Vietnamisation: President Nixon came up with the policy of strategic withdrawal from Vietnam. Also called WHAM (Winning the Hearts and Minds of the Vietnamese) signalled the failure of USA to stop Vietnam from becoming a communist state and its subsequent withdrawal
  - USA withdrew all troops by 1973 (President Nixon had signed the Paris Peace Accords on 27 January 1973 – ending USA involvement in the Vietnam war)
  - North Vietnam took control of Saigon in 1975
  - The spirit of fighting and defending their country gave birth to determination that triumphed over modern weapons used by the USA
  - Vietnam was united under communist control
  - Any other relevant response
- Conclusion: Candidates should tie up their argument with a relevant conclusion.

QUESTION 5: INDEPENDENT AFRICA: CASE STUDY – THE CONGO

[Plan and construct an original argument based on relevant evidence using analytical and interpretative skills]

SYNOPSIS

Candidates should critically discuss whether Mobutu Sese Seko's political and economic policies introduced by the newly independent Congo in the early 1960s were welcomed by all the Congolese. They should support their line of argument with evidence.

MAIN ASPECTS

Candidates should include the following aspects in their response:

- Introduction: Candidates should take a stance by critically discussing whether Mobutu Sese Seko's political and economic policies introduced by the newly independent Congo in the early 1960s were welcomed by all the Congolese. They should indicate how they intend to support their line of argument.

ELABORATION*Political policies

- Colonial legacies: (as background information)
  - Paternalism – Congolese were treated as children – with no responsibility in administration or representation of the government;
  - Belgium did not prepare for the proper transition of a new leadership take over
- Congo became independent on 30 June 1960 with Joseph Kasavubu as President and Patrice Lumumba as Prime Minister. Kasavubu preferred that Congo be a federal state while Lumumba was for a strong centralised national government/Lumumba also in conflict with Moïse Tshombé
- The newly independent Congo started with lots of political instability, e.g. Tshombé focused on secession of Katanga for its own independence – a sign for the need of strong political policies
- Mobutu seized power from Kasavubu through a coup d'état in 1965 (ambitious)
- He applied authoritarianism to achieve political stability
- In 1967 Mobutu managed to stop the Katanga rebellion and gave his country a new constitution as a one party-state under his party, the Popular Movement for the Revolution (MPR)
- Congo became a one-party state within the first five years after gaining independence with all opposition suppressed (authoritarian) – not welcomed by the Congolese
- Mobutu developed a personality cult (Mobutuism) (poor leadership) – self-centred leadership – not welcomed by the Congolese
- Mobutuism made Congo an autocratic state under himself as a military dictator (poor leadership) – not welcomed by the Congolese
- He was supported by the USA because he was seen as anti-communist ally – continuing colonial domination
- He created a strong centralised government and controlled all appointments, promotions and the allocation of government revenue – led to nepotism - not welcomed by the Congolese

- He introduced a policy of Zaireanisation, a policy that replaced skilled foreigners or those occupying strategic management positions with the unskilled locals – which led to maladministration and mismanagement in political leadership roles
- Any other relevant response

Economic policies

- Colonial legacies: (as background information)
  - Exploitation – Belgian prosperity based on exploitation of cotton; rubber plantations; and mines (copper, tin & diamond) by colonial companies; Profits from minerals (mines) based on exploitation of Congolese workers
  - At independence Congo was considered most prosperous but with the economic wealth owned by foreign owners
- Mobutu inherited: a capitalist economy (from Belgium)
- Economy in the hands of white settlers and foreigners
- An economy rich in natural resources: copper, cobalt, diamonds, and other materials which was based on foreign investment
- He introduced nationalisation: Mobutu nationalised the country's copper mining industry and used profits from copper industry to finance his 10-year industrialisation plan (appearing pro-Congolese at face value)
- Nationalised foreign owned companies without compensation (appearing pro-Congolese at face value)
- Foreign companies placed under control of his allies and family members – not welcomed by the Congolese
- Introduced Zaireanisation (replacing foreigners with Zairian nationals) (good leadership – empowering locals and reversing paternalism)
- Zaireanisation led to corruption, nepotism, theft and mismanagement – not welcomed by the Congolese
- The economy was characterised by nepotism and elitism (Created big gap between the elite and ordinary citizens/rich and poor) (poor leadership) not welcomed by the Congolese
- Weak economic policies led to the decline in the state of infrastructure such as roads etc. – affected Congolese negatively not welcomed by the Congolese
- Mobutu created a kleptocracy – wherein a group of appointed public officials abused their position for financial gain (corruption – not welcomed by the Congolese)
- Mobutu was forced to introduce Retrocession (return of foreign owners) (ineffectiveness of Zaireanisation) – failed policy not welcomed by the Congolese
- Very few foreign owners returned
- Congo's economy collapsed (poor economic policies) – negative impact on Congolese not welcomed by the Congolese
- Congo became dependent on foreign aid and investment, e.g. from the World Bank – remain under colonial influence not welcomed by the Congolese
- Mobutu remained as 'president for life' until his death in 2007 - not welcomed by the Congolese
- Any other relevant response
- Conclusion: Candidates should tie their argument with a relevant conclusion. [50]

QUESTION 6: CIVIL SOCIETY PROTESTS FROM THE 1950s TO THE 1970s:
THE BLACK POWER MOVEMENT

[Plan and construct an original argument based on relevant evidence using analytical and interpretative skills]

SYNOPSIS

Candidates need to explain to what extent the Black Power philosophy instilled confidence amongst African Americans to challenge discrimination in the United States of America (USA) from the 1960s to 1970s. They should support their line of argument with relevant historical evidence.

MAIN ASPECTS

Candidates should include the following aspects in their response:

- Introduction: Candidates should take a stance by indicating to what extent the Black Power philosophy instilled confidence amongst African Americans to challenge discrimination in the United States of America (USA) from the 1960s to 1970s. They should also provide an outline of how they will support their line of argument.

ELABORATION

- Conditions in the USA: (Background information)
  - African Americans still economically and politically crippled in the USA due to discriminatory (Jim Crow) laws
  - Lack of a sense of pride due to socio-economic circumstances (Lived in ghettos and slum areas/poor housing/under-resourced facilities)
  - African Americans became impatient with the slow pace of change and the impact of the Civil Rights Movement in the 1960s
  - African Americans subjected to police brutality – led to growth of nationalist feelings.
- Black Power philosophy advocated instilling confidence amongst African Americans by promoting a sense of: assertiveness; self-reliance; black pride; control of politics in their own communities (advocated by Stockley Carmichael); African Americans to protect themselves against police brutality; African Americans to seek freedom from White authority; promotion of Afro hairstyle and African clothing and coined the slogan 'Black is beautiful' (succeeded in eliminating inferiority complex)
- 1966 Bobby Seale and Huey Newton formed the Black Panther Party (BPP) for Self-Defence – against police brutality (succeeded in encouraging African Americans to be assertive and instilled confidence)
- BPP's Ten Point Plan would instil confidence amongst African Americans social, political and economic goals that were formulated for the upliftment of the African American community
- The Black Panther Party ran feeding schemes, childcare and literacy projects in Black communities - the feeding schemes eradicated hunger amongst the youth and improved learning in schools (instilled confidence)
- BPP literacy projects eradicated illiteracy amongst the African American communities (instilled confidence)
- BPP childcare projects took care of medical needs of African Americans in black communities (instilled confidence)

- BPP members patrolled the streets to monitor police activities (police the police) and defend themselves against police brutality – sign of confidence based on human rights (instilled confidence)
- BPP demanded that African Americans history must be taught in black schools – self acceptance and removing inferiority complex (instilled confidence)
- Malcolm X promoted armed self-defence against white oppression (instilled confidence)
- He argued that bloodshed was necessary for revolution (black nationalism) and advocated for self-respect and self-discipline (instilled confidence)
- Promoted the concept of 'Black Pride' (self-esteem/self-respect/self-help) (instilled confidence)
- Encouraged African Americans to stand up and challenge white American authorities in pursuit of freedom, justice and equality by whatever means possible (instilled confidence)
- Supported the use of violence as a means of self-defence against those who attacked African Americans
- Stokely Carmichael believed that the non-violent strategy failed because of ongoing violence against African Americans
- Advocated the exclusion of white 'liberals' as a philosophy for African Americans
- He promoted the idea to split the USA into separate black and white communities
- He was against the USA's involvement in the Vietnam war
- Impact: the most obvious forms of racial discrimination ended
- Racial violence and tension declined
- African Americans were elected to public offices (instilled confidence)
- Housing and facilities of African Americans were improved (instilled confidence)
- Black literacy and dependence on state grants were limited (instilled confidence)
- Affirmative action policies for federal employment were put in place
- Any other relevant response

Conclusion: Candidates should tie up their argument with a relevant conclusion.
